Put Blame on Pilot, Engine

Sabotage Is Ruled Out In Death of Magsaysay

Manila, March 21 (AP)—Philippine investigators today ruled out the possibility that sabotage caused the plane crash in which Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay died.

Col. Ricardo Papa, deputy constabulary chief, said evidence gathered on Sunday's Cebu Island crash indicated no foul play was involved.

Drill Announced By CD on Danger Of Nuclear Attack

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Civil Defense officials have announced plans for a nationwide "Operation Alert 1957" this summer to drill government and civil defense workers in the problems of nuclear attack.

The fourth annual drill will begin with an attack period from 11 a. m. EST July 12 to 6 p. m. July 14, followed by a "survival action period" ending at noon July 19.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) said last night it will not announce the target cities ahead of time as it did in previous tests.

FCDA added that some federal workers will evacuate Washington, but federal agencies will not move to secret relocation centers as they have in the past.

"It is expected that certain organizations which would come into existence in the event of war will be tested on a limited basis for the first time," the announcement said.

State and local civil defense agencies will begin preparing for the test July 8. Canada will assist in the program in border areas.

Last year's Operation Alert included simulated nuclear attacks on 76 cities in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone.

Limited Freeze Proposed On C-1 Fluid Milk Price

Ithaca, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today endorsed a proposal for a temporary freeze on the price of Class 1 fluid milk.

Prices ordinarily decline in the spring months as production increases.

The governor recommended that the Class 1 price be kept at the March level through July.

His remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the 46th annual Farm and Home week at Cornell University.

Harriman said regulations to block the seasonal drop would mean six to seven million dollars for New York farmers.

The March price will be set by the New York marketing administrator on the basis of sales this month. Class fluid milk is largely that sold in containers at retail.

A suggestion that an emergency order be issued to keep prices up during the spring was advanced at a recent meeting of dairy group leaders and Agricultural

26 Met Death

The investigators announced that the crash which killed 26 persons was not preceded by an explosion as the sole survivor, newsman Nestor Mata, originally had reported.

The possible causes were said to have been narrowed down to pilot error and engine failure.

Reconstructing the disaster, the investigators surmised that the two-engine plane's right wing snapped off against a tree as it skirted the mountainside where the predawn crash occurred.

U. S. Experts Help

Mata's story, aroused speculation of Communist sabotage against the 49-year-old president, one of Asia's staunchest anti-Communists who crushed the Red Huk movement when he was defense secretary.

American air experts have been helping in the exhaustive investigation, which involved assembling bits of plane wreckage strewn for hundreds of feet over the Humbled mountainside.

Nearly 200,000 Filipinos kept a mourning vigil around Malacanang Palace and thousands filed past Magsaysay's flag-draped casket, lying in state inside the palace until the funeral Friday.

The floral tributes banking the room included wreaths from President Eisenhower and President Theodor Heuss of West Germany.

Successor Hard at Work

At the foot of the casket was a simple wreath of ferns from "Luz, Tita, Ading, Jun"—Mrs. Magsaysay, Teresa and Milagros, the President's daughters, and Ramon Jr., his son.

Magsaysay's successor, former Vice President Carlos Garcia, was hard at work in an adjoining room signing documents.

Garcia issued a statement saying he would continue to carry out the same foreign policy laid down by the Magsaysay administration. He said this included maintenance of national security, compliance with Filipino commitments to the United States and SEATO and a continuing fight against communism.

ture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey.

Farm matters also were on the governor's schedule yesterday. He appointed a 16-member advisory council on seasonal production on farms and in the food-processing industry.

William S. Dunn, Schoharie cattle auctioneer and former assistant state agriculture commissioner, was named chairman.

Two other speakers prepared talks for the Farm & Home audience.

An agricultural economist said the farm vote no longer was likely to determine the outcome of presidential elections.

Dr. Kenneth Robinson of Cornell University told a farm audience that this vote was less than seven per cent of the total in the eight states which he said hold the key to presidential elections.

He said the key states in presidential elections were New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio, Michigan, (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

Job May Be Let Out on April Date Plans Are Shown At Local Hearing

Work on the connecting link between Route 9W and the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge in all probabilities will get under way early this season. Relocation of Route 32 in the immediate vicinity of the bridge will also be started at an early date.

There is a possibility that a contract will be let in April and work started before Memorial Day.

Hearing Held Tuesday

This was disclosed at a public hearing held Tuesday at Lake Katrine Grange hall in connection with the securing of Federal aid for the relocation of approximately a quarter of a mile of Route 32, at the bridge entrance.

The cost, estimated at $1,400,000, of relocating Route 32 near the bridge entrance is to be born by Federal and State funds, each contributing 50 per cent of the cost. Under the law a public hearing is required where Federal funds are involved.

Following the public hearing six weeks will be required to advertise for bids and a contract may then be forthcoming. Plans for the relocation of Route 32 as well as plans for the 9W connecting link have been completed.

R-32 to Tie In

Representatives from the New York State Department of Public Works Poughkeepsie office presided at the hearing Tuesday. Engineer Vogel explained that the only question involved was the relocation of route 32 in the Indications are that many will attend the event, according to the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the contest.

Aside from receiving many gifts from merchants of the area, Miss Kingston will be sent to compete for the Miss New York State crown at Schenectady.

The state queen will be entered in the Miss America finals at Atlantic City, N. J. at a date to be announced.

Credit Unions Are Pressing Loans In Competition

Chicago, March 20 (AP)—Commercial loan firms face increasingly significant competition from credit unions, a management consultant said Tuesday.

Dr. Rudolf Modley of Kent, Conn., told an American Bankers Assn. Installment Credit Conference that "the larger part of the one and one-quarter billion dollars in personal loans outstanding held by credit unions is undoubtedly volume which is directly competitive with commercial lending."

Makes Comparison

Modley, in a prepared address, said that "since the end of the Second World War, installment credit outstanding by credit unions has grown 20-fold while personal loans by commercial

Holmes Back in Office, Glusker Is Reelected

In village elections Tuesday former Mayor George P. Holmes and his entire Independent slate were swept into office in Saugerties, Mayor Eugene Glusker (D) reelected in Ellenville and a woman mayor—believed to be Ulster county's first—named in Rosendale in an election which reportedly may be upset on a legal technicality.

A total of 1,789 ballots were cast in the Saugerties election which produced a surprise of landslide proportions.

Overwhelming Victory

Mr. Holmes overwhelmed his incumbent opponent, Mayor Arthur F. Simmons, running on the Citizens Protective Party ticket, by a vote of 1,110 to 634, a majority of 476.

Swept into office with the popular former mayor were four members of his Independent party—Elton L. Johnson, builder and developer of Woodland Acres at Blue Mountain, 982 votes; Frank Short, who was reemployed at Alpha Portland Cement Company, Cementon, 964; Sheldon Longendyke, party chairman and former village assessor under the Holmes administration.

Bridge Authority Moving to Office In Poughkeepsie

The New York State Bridge Authority, scheduled to be in its new quarters at Poughkeepsie by Monday, will be moving from its office here at 22 Ferry street from today through Friday.

Edward J. Burns, administrative officer, said the new office, in a building near the eastern entrance to the Mid-Hudson Bridge, will be in operation Monday. The authority's reorganization meeting is slated for Tuesday, when officers will be elected.

Robert Hoe, of Poughkeepsie, has served as chairman, and Dr. John L. Edwards, of Hudson has served as vice-chairman of the authority during the past year. Other members of the authority are Ernest M. Heppner, of Kingston; John S. Stillman, Cornwall-on-Hudson and William Haas, of Coxsackie, who was recently appointed by Gov. Averell Harriman to succeed Neal Brandow, of West Coxsackie.

The new mailing address of the authority office will be P. O. Box 590, Poughkeepsie, and the new telephone number will be Globe 2-1370.

The authority established its office here in May, 1949 when the late James F. Loughran, former Ulster county highway superintendent, was chairman.

Macmillan, President To Confer Mid-East Crisis One Major Topic

Tucker's Town, Bermuda, March 20 (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew into Bermuda today for urgent talks with President Eisenhower on the Middle East crisis and half a dozen other world issues.

Ike Due Later

Eisenhower, winding up a week's health cruise on the guided missile cruiser Canberra, was due here six hours later.

Macmillan's big double decked Stratocruiser from London touched down at Bermuda at 9:59 a. m. (8:59 a. m. EST).

Two minutes later Macmillan stepped from the British Overseas Airline craft, Casseopia, and received the welcome of Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall, British governor of these islands in the mid-Atlantic.

Inspects Honor Guard

The weather, which had been grey and wet yesterday, was breezy but sunny as the prime minister briskly inspected an honor guard consisting of a platoon of Royal Navy men from the British frigate Bigbury Bay, a snappy 100-man unit from the Duke of Cornwall's light infantry and a band from the same outfit.

It was a colorful assembly with the blue and white navy uniforms, the deep green and red sashes of the bandmen and the cocky green berets of the heel-clicking soldiers.

Gov. Woodall and other Bermuda officials, including Lord Bishop A. L. E. Williams, Chief Justice Sir Trounwell Gilbert and members of the executive council, were in uniform or striped pants, black morning coats and dove grey topers.

Will Talk 4 Days

Within 15 minutes after landing Macmillan climbed into the governor's car and set out over Bermuda's winding hilly roads for the mid ocean club where he and Eisenhower and their foreign ministers will do their talking for the next four days.

One of their chief purposes is to try to lay some practical basis for rebuilding the British-American partnership which has been a cornerstone of the free world alliance since the end of World War 2. The partnership was virtually wrecked by the Middle East crisis last fall.

Diplomats said top priority in the talks had to go to the most urgent aspects of the Middle East crisis involving Israel and Egypt.

Wants Vigorous Hand

Macmillan was expected to ask the President to exert more vigorous and determined American leadership. The British are reported to feel that American policy has been lacking in decisiveness and depended too heavily on the United Nations.

Other Middle East problems slated for discussion include the operation of the Suez Canal and relations with Egypt and Syria, the Arab states most closely linked to Russia.

Other Topics

In addition a review of western relations with Russia, the prospects for further freedom pressures in Eastern Europe, the strength of the North Atlantic Alliance and possibility of modifying the trade embargo with Red China are set for debate.

In a statement Macmillan said, "I am sure that our talks will be valuable and will help to build up the strong traditions of Anglo-American friendship."

LaMotta Convicted, Faces Term in Jail

Miami, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Jake LaMotta, former middleweight boxing champion, faces six months in jail after his conviction on two charges of violating Florida's prostitution laws.

A six-man court of crimes jury deliberated two and a half hours last night before convicting the 34-year-old former boxer on two counts and acquitting him on two others.

LaMotta, now a Miami Beach bar operator, stood silent while Judge George E. Schulz pronounced the maximum sentence of six months in county jail at hard labor and a fine of $500.

The jury convicted LaMotta of operating a place in which a 14-year-old girl made "dates" for prostitution and of aiding and abetting her activities.

He was freed on charges of receiving the girl in his establishment and procuring customers for her.

LaMotta was released in $1,000 bond pending filing motions for a new trial and an appeal to Circuit Court.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

A FREEDOM FIGHTER DIES

The late Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay was a politician in the George Washington tradition.

Thus, in his recent death in a plane crash, the world lost one of its most devoted freedom fighters.

Magsaysay had a long and star-studded record as a battler for Philippine welfare and a sworn enemy of the Communists.

A guerrilla fighter during the Japanese occupation of his homeland in World War II, he carried on the fight against the rebellious, Communist-led Hukbong after the conflict. Where others failed and the Hukbong had the islands terrified, he smashed the insurgent movement, weeded out corruption in the army and won an overwhelming majority in becoming president in 1953.

Magsaysay's program of resettlement of malcontents was in recognition of the fact that land hunger was at the root of communism in Asia. Under his program, thousands of former rebels were resettled on the island of Mindanao and reformed into loyal citizens.

Filipino cooperation with the United States prospered under Magsaysay. Only a few hours before his death, he made speeches that illustrated clearly his pro-American and anti-Communist feelings.

"You cannot remain neutral," he said. "You have to take a stand."

His stand made clear that "you do not have to be anti-American or anti-foreign to be resoundingly pro-Filipino."

There is no doubt that the death of one of Asia's most bitter enemies of communism has dealt a damaging blow to U. S. policy plans in the Philippines.

A period of political unrest is almost certain for our Pacific friends. But in the meantime, it is comforting to know that the new chief executive, former Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, has always been a staunch supporter of Magsaysay policies.

RESTORING THE VOTE

Moving to another state may have advantages, but for the serious minded citizen it has one drawback. Because most states require a year's residence before voting is permitted, the immigrant from a neighboring commonwealth may lose his vote for a year. The deprivation is particularly felt in a presidential election.

New York is recognizing the justice of this grievance, and is beginning to act. The lower house of the legislature has voted a constitutional amendment that would allow newcomers to vote for president after four months' residence. For local officials, as to whom some special information is required, they must wait a year.

This is one step out of the five that New York requires for the amendment of its 'fundamental charter.' The measure must also go through the House, then through both houses of a second legislature, and finally be ratified by the people. Even if the plan falls by the wayside, it is a good idea, from which other states could profit.

Whether a puppy is considered destructive or merely mischievous often depends on whether he's yours or the neighbors'.

GOING UP?

Not long ago someone commenting fancifully on possible solutions to the traffic congestion problem suggested that eventually businessmen might be using helicopters for their trips between home and office.

This seems on the way to becoming a reality sooner than expected. The idea has been given a boost by the announcement that the versatile whirlybirds will provide transportation for President Eisenhower between White House and airport.

That could conceivably be the beginning of general use of helicopters for this purpose in the country's densely populated areas. It already is being tried in some cities. The problem of landing spots and hanger facilities might be difficult, but many more baffling problems have been solved to meet modern requirements.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE CHINA TRADE

There used to be a Commercial Attache in China, Julian Arnold, who tried hard to push American products. He tried to get the Chinese to like raisins. He also tried to introduce prunes, hoping thereby to increase the use of California fruits. If 400,000,000 Chinese each ate one prune a day, it would mean that California would sell 400,000,000 more prunes every day. The arithmetic was all right, but the Chinese did not take to prunes.

Now we are back to the question of the China market which has grown to 600,000,000 human beings who live on a low standard of living. The British, Japanese and the Germans would like to do more business in that market. The Japanese, particularly, are bound to find a way to barter manufactured goods for foodstuffs, especially the soy bean which is a staple of the Japanese cuisine and which grows plentifully in Manchuria and areas of North China.

China can get from Japan, Poland and Czechoslovakia on better terms anything that the British can sell. In fact, textiles which used to be a principal item of British trade, are being manufactured on the China mainland and in Japan and Poland.

The China market can absorb strategic goods, war materials, and it makes no sense to sell that to Red China.

Thus far, the United States has avoided trade with Red China, except the payment of ransom for American citizens held in that country. The British have been more lenient and have tried to make a killing out of the port of Hongkong while the going was good. Hongkong prospered for a period but the sale of strategic materials is like gun-running. It is only worth while when conditions are satisfactory and all transactions have to be for cash or are guaranteed by Chinese compradors, which narrows the market.

At the present time 15 nations are engaged in the ban of trade with Red China, but there is considerable difference of opinion and possibly smuggling of European goods into China. I recall that after World War I, the great Powers had a treaty not to sell arms to China, but I personally witnessed such sales out of embassies in Peking.

Henry Ford II, whose company could sell cars and tractors to Red China, takes the position that the United States needs to be realistic about trade with Red China and realism means that if we give aid to Communist Poland, why not do business with Communist China? The answer could be that we should not give aid to Poland or Yugoslavia or any Communist country, because again the question arises as to who will pay for the goods sold, the customer or the American taxpayer. If it is to be the American taxpayer, he ought to have some choice in the matter. If it is his money that is to subsidize an American manufacturer or trader, he ought to have a voice as to who the customer is to be.

There is, however, this to justify Ford's position. The United States subsidizes West Germany; West Germany's car manufacturers sell to Red China on wonderful terms. If our money is to subsidize our competitors, why not keep the business to home? On the other hand, the principal American companies often have subsidiaries in foreign countries which operate indigenous companies where they may be. Such companies, as non-American businesses, can operate according to the policies of the countries where they are domiciled. It gives them an out if necessary.

Red China's major problem is over-population and the inability to find work enough in an essentially agricultural country. Industry is still primitive and backward, despite heroic efforts to industrialize the country. The surplus population in the old days engaged in banditry until absorbed in someone's army. Now that the population has increased to the phenomenal figure of 600,000,000, the Red Chinese government is concerned because it cannot feed such a population nor find work for it. The logical answer is complete modern industrialization, but for that China lacks capital, know-how and suffers from a tendency to start everything at once, which means that there will be some runts in the litter.

The present pressures to get the United States and other nations to trade with Red China recognize that industrialization is the logical conclusion for Red China's problems, but who will pay for it and with what?

That Body of Yours

SPECIAL BATHS

Sometimes one may have to look after a sick or convalescent person and perhaps is told to give him a certain type of special bath. These baths are many and varied and I would like to outline a few of them for possible future reference. They would, of course, be prescribed by the physician.

1. Tepid Sponge Bath: This serves to promote relaxation, relieve discomfort, stimulate circulation, and temporarily reduce a high fever. One part of the body at a time should be sponged with water at a temperature of about 80 degrees F. and lightly dried. It is imperative to avoid chilling the patient; the room should be warm and free from drafts, and covers should be used as needed. The water bath should be followed by sponging with a 25 per cent alcohol solution warmed to 105 F.

2. Sitz Bath: This bath is aimed at relieving urinary retention, painful straining of bowels and local pain, congestion and muscle spasm. The patient sits preferably on a folded bath towel, for 5 to 30 minutes in a tub containing at least six inches of water at a temperature of 110 degrees. A blanket draped around his shoulders will prevent chilling. If any evidence of exhaustion appears, the bath should be ended at once, the patient dried and returned to bed.

3. Emollient Baths: These are given to relieve skin irritation. The patient remains for ten to 30 minutes or longer in 2/3 tub of water heated to about 100 degrees F., and containing an emollient (soothing substance) such as starch, bran or oatmeal. Immediately following the bath the skin is patted dry in such a way as to leave on a thin film of the agent used. These baths are prepared as follows:

Starch: mix one pound of cornstarch with enough cold water to make a smooth paste. To this, add hot water, boil until thick, and add to water in tub.

Bran: place 2 pounds of bran in a closed muslin bag and soak in a pot of hot water for 10 to 15 minutes. Then the water and muslin bag are added to the bath water and the bag is used as a washing sponge by repeatedly squeezing it against the skin.

Oatmeal: use three cups of cooked oatmeal, tied in a cheesecloth bag, as a washing sponge. Sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) 8 oz. may be added to the oatmeal bath.

Tar bath (to relieve itching): prepared by dissolving 3 oz. of Solution of Coal Tar U.S.P. in an adult's bath. The patient is immersed for 20 to 30 minutes.

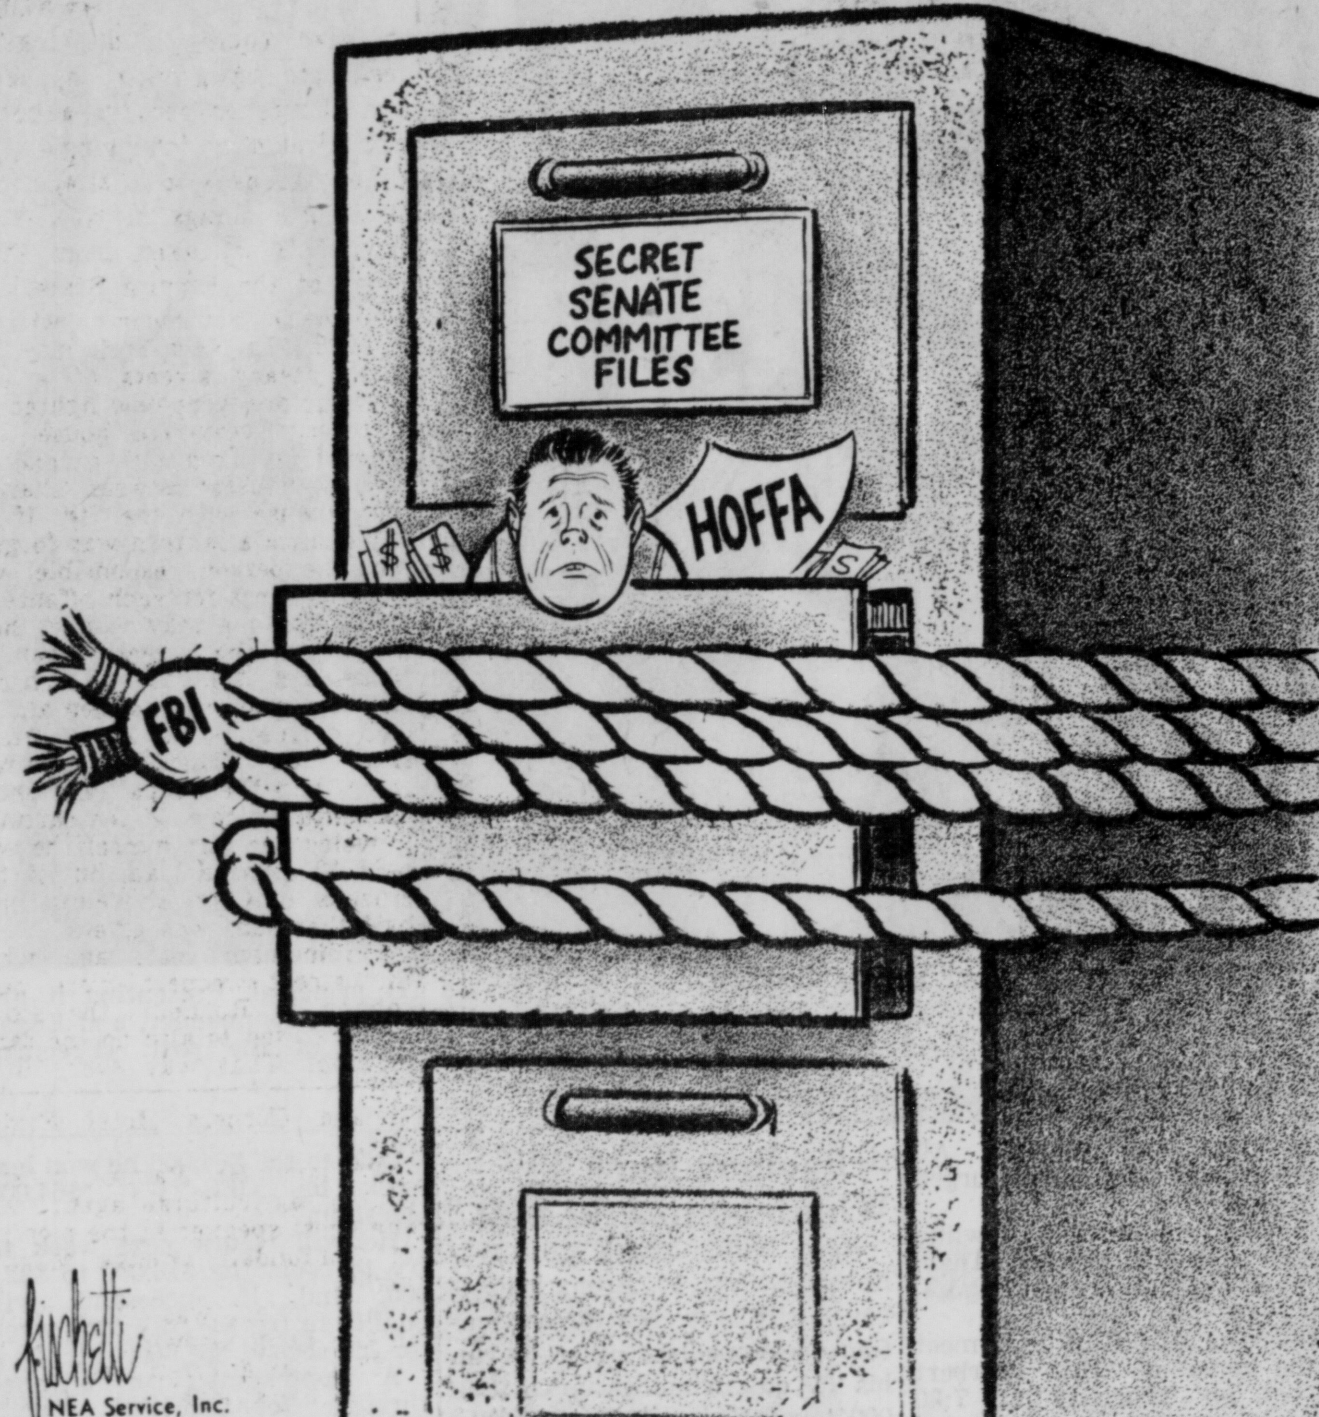

Mustard Bath: the adult's bath should contain 1 to 2 tablespoons to a gallon of warm water (80 to 90 degrees F.). Period of bath is 15 to 20 minutes and never more than 30 minutes. Children's baths are of half strength or less.

Some Fix

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA)—What the United States faces in Middle East economic development under the new Eisenhower doctrine is perhaps best exemplified by a 20-year, six-million-dollar investment guaranty contract recently given by the U. S. government to Edwin W. Pauley, Los Angeles independent oil producer.

Mr. Pauley is going wild-cattling in the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan—Just east of Israel. The U. S. government is insuring him against loss of his investment through expropriation, means seizure by a hostile government, the way Nasser seized the Suez Canal, an all probability, there will have to be more such guaranty contracts written to cover other private investments.

This Pauley deal was handled as a routine matter by the International Cooperation Administration's Investment Guaranty Program, under Charles B. Warden. Before the Pauley contract could be made, however, the U. S. government had to negotiate a treaty with Jordan, authorizing the U. S. to intervene and take over all assets in case of seizure. All this took over a year.

THE JORDAN TREATY was signed. Then the Suez crisis developed.

World War II developing in the Middle East was high and the prospects for the Pauley deal went low. But on Feb. 6 it was announced as closed. First shipments of drilling equipment into Jordan should start soon.

Pauley and his associates plan to spend up to a million and a half dollars a year for two years, then three million dollars the third year in their search for oil.

The premiums they will pay for expropriation insurance will be one-half of one per cent on their investment. This would be $7,500 the first year, $15,000 the second, $30,000 thereafter.

If no oil is discovered, the loss will be borne entirely by Pauley. If he strikes oil and makes 30 or 100 million dollars, his ICA guaranty is still limited to loss by expropriation of his original six-million-dollar investment.

The fact that this guaranty is given for Jordan is one of the poorest and least stable countries in the whole Middle East.

JORDAN CAN'T BEGIN to support itself or its thousands of Arab refugees from Israel. Jordan has existed on British military subsidies of about 30 million dollars a year in the past. Jordan is now supposed to get a like subsidy from Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia. Jordan's government is so weak there has even been talk of splitting the country up among its neighbors.

Into this bleak situation steps the courageous Mr. Pauley. And the U. S. government, eyes wide open, goes right along with him to insure him against loss by expropriation.

South Says Football Ruling By Court Backs Segregation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 20—May be the Supreme Court of the United States will be surprised to learn about it, but down South they are having a field day over the recent decision of the court on professional football which seems to knock the props from under the reasons given by the same court for its ruling on segregation.

Newspapers in the South in a number of editorials are pointing to the inconsistency, if not the hypocrisy, of the judges who have just overturned a long-standing interpretation of the "law of the land" on baseball and substituted for it a new law on football that never has been enacted by Congress.

The Court's Own Words

The language of the Supreme Court in this case, if written into the decision on mixing the schools, would have upheld the "law of the land" as it had been set forth during a period of nearly 60 years. The Supreme Court, in the latest case declaring that professional football comes under the anti-trust laws but professional baseball doesn't, has this to say:

"In Toolson" (the 1953 case on baseball) we continued to hold the umbrella over baseball that was placed there some thirty-one years earlier by 'Federal baseball' (a previous case). The court did this because it was concluded that more harm would be done in overruling 'Federal baseball' than in upholding a ruling which at best was of dubious validity.

"Vast efforts had gone into the development and organization of baseball since that decision and enormous capital had been invested in reliance on its permanence. Congress had chosen to make no change.

Put It Up to Congress

"All this, combined with the flood of litigation that would follow its repudiation, the harassment that would ensue, and the retroactive effect of such a decision, led the court to the practical result that it should sustain the unequivocal line of authority reaching over many years....

"We, therefore, conclude that the orderly way to eliminate error or discrimination, if any there be, is by legislation and not by court decision."

Yet ever since 1896, when the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the right of the states to carry on "separate but equal" school facilities, enormous amounts of money have been invested by the states in separate schools, and a whole system of education has been established over the years based on that decision. In 1954, however, the Supreme Court overturned the decision and gave not a single reason based on any precedent or historic principle of law, offering instead a vague discourse in the realm of sociology.

Litigation Follows

Certainly there has been a "flood of litigation" since, and the Supreme Court has endeavored through court orders to enforce the ruling, while many eminent lawyers, including former Justice Byrnes of the Supreme Court, insist that only Congress can enact the legislation necessary to enforce the Fourteenth Amendment and the interpretation given it by the court.

Congress had ample opportunity between 1896 and 1954 to enact laws forbidding segregation in the schools, but did not do so. The Fourteenth Amendment, unlike other parts of the Constitution, is not self-executing. The Fourteenth Amendment says specifically that "the Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article."

Borrowing the language of the football-case decision, it could be said that from 1896 to this day "Congress had chosen to make no change" in the matter of desegregation. It could be argued, too, that the "orderly way" is "by legislation and not by court decision."

Dissenters' Views

But it will be noted that, in the latest case, Justices Frankfurter, Harlan and Brennan insisted that what the Supreme Court had previously decided should stand. In his dissent, in which Justice Brennan joined, Justice Harlan said:

"If the situation... is to be changed, I think it far better to leave it to be dealt with by Congress than for this court to becloud the situation further, either by making untenable distinctions... or by discriminatory fiat...."

Justice Frankfurter, in his dissent, stressed the importance of upholding a rule once decided. He wrote:

"But considerations pertaining to 'stare decisis' (let stand what has been decided) do raise a serious question as to the propriety of a vital ingredient of law, for it 'embodies an important social policy.'... It would disregard the principle for a judge stubbornly to persist in his views on a particular issue after the contrary had become a part of the tissue of the law...."

Wrong Reasons

The "separate but equal" doctrine in relation to schools for different races certainly became a vital part of "the tissue of the law," but nine justices, relying on some writings of sociologists, disregarded the principles and precedents of law and made a decision based on personal philosophy. Indeed, many lawyers who call for desegregation have hailed the Supreme Court's ruling as "the right decision for the wrong reasons."

The way the justices have expressed themselves in the latest football case will rise to plague them hereafter when they are confronted with enforcement orders from the lower courts on the desegregation issue. Already, for example, the Supreme Court of the State of Florida has raised a pertinent question by insisting that a state court is itself the sole judge of when any order shall be put into effect relating to state laws declared invalid. It holds that this "discretionary process" has to take into account harassment and mischief or violence that may result from and immediate enforcement measures. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In a difficult and tedious presentation of the interlocking interests of Frank Brewster, the Seattle satrap of the Teamsters Union and George C. Newell, the insurance agent who reaped $330,000 in commissions on union policies in one single year, I erred in reporting that certain money which Brewster received from Newell was carried on the books of the affiliated fund as loans.

The insurance man did give Brewster 3,000 or 4,000 shares of stock in the Affiliated Fund, Inc. Twenty-nine new investment trusts, but the affiliated fund, itself, took no part in the dealings between them. And it does not lend money. The Affiliated Fund, Inc., is an open-end investment company, with assets of $360,000,000 and 135,000 shareholders, located at 63 Wall street, New York City. It did not issue checks or make loans to Brewster nor do any loans appear on its books.

H. I. Prankard, president of the company, has told me that the policy statement of Affiliated Fund, Inc., on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission prohibits the company from making loans to anyone. Apparently Newell thought this was a good stock to give his friend.

My piece was based on testimony taken by a congressional subcommittee in Los Angeles two and a half years ago and ignored by Congress, although this subcommittee was doing the spade work on the pea-patch which is now yielding a rich political harvest for Senator McClellan, of Arkansas, and Joe Kennedy's precocious brat, Bobbie.

The statements were so confusing that two congressmen, Howard Miller, of Kansas, and Sam P. McConnell, Jr., of Pennsylvania, both said they were not at all clear on the figures presented by their own accountant after examination of Newell's books. My own confusion was caused by the frequent occurrence of the word "fund," referring to health and welfare insurance moneys contributed by rank and file Teamsters and their employers.

The committee's accountant said: "Newell showed me a copy of his income tax return for 1953 which showed a payment of $5,170 to Brewster."

"I asked the reason for this payment and the extent of it. He said that for the past three or four years he had given a 1000-share block of Affiliated Fund, Inc., to Brewster and that the reason he had given it to him was in connection with their horse-racing business, although the income tax return indicated that it was as a result of this union (insurance) business."

Affiliated Fund is listed at about $5.79 a share and Newell's gifts to Brewster would have been about $15,000 or about $20,000. Previous questions had elicited from the accountant a flat statement of his professional belief that these gifts of Affiliated Fund from Newell to Brewster were "payments to union officers in connection with this welfare fund business."

Brewster had as partner in two other racing stables, of which he has had at least four in recent years. John J. Sweeney, the secretary-treasurer of the Western Conference, under Beck, Sweeney died suddenly of a heart attack in Brewster's presence as they took their luxurious ease beside a swimming pool at Palm Springs, Calif., last November.

Working stiffs of the unions are not included in the clientele of Palm Springs but Hollywood trash and the underworld are heavily represented in any typical social roster. There is a sprinkling of respectable citizens, too.

In the same inquiry, Charles O. Cross showed up accompanied by his attorney who turned out to be the redoubtable John C. Stevenson, formerly John C. Stockman, who landed in Seattle on the lam from a set of indictments charging him with swindling suckers in a bucket shop in Buffalo.

Cross, the statistician for the Los Angeles Joint Conference of Teamsters' Locals, was a dull witness and the committee at the time booted the significance of the fact that this conference picked Stevenson as its mouthpiece. He was notorious in Seattle and the northwest generally in the early days of the Roosevelt administration and, notwithstanding his escapades back east, got himself elected to the County Commission and had the gall to run for governor. He professed to be a dentist as well as a lawyer.

He finally beat the raps in New York state when the prosecutors decided that they could not convict him and let the indictment die. However, one complaining witness, who confronted Stevenson and said he was the same Stockman known to his country back in Buffalo, insisted that Stevenson paid him off.

Stevenson came back into public notice last fall when he examined a whole sheaf of racing documents in the Los Angeles office of the California Racing Board, including interlocking partnerships and the registration of four sets of colors. Thus, I discovered that Brewster had listed J. C. Stevenson as one who would couch for his character.

Brewster is not only Beck's chief assistant in the western conference, with absolute control over the interstate transportation of commerce by truck and much of the railway traffic in eleven states, but his aggressive rival as well.

Beck has his roots deep in Seattle and it is doubtful that Congress can throw him out of his flat sinecure as national president of the teamsters, with a right to unlimited expense accounts 365 days a year plus $50,000 salary and free occupancy of a home which he sold to the union for $162,000 by action of his own executive group without reference to the membership. The union constitution spells out all that.

But Brewster wants Beck to get out of the west, live in Washington and let him run the western conference.

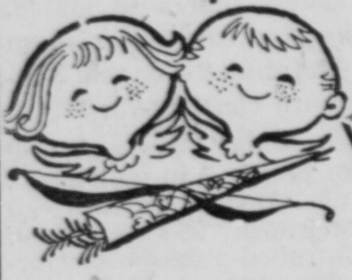

Both Beck and Brewster have been friendly with Stevenson for about 30 years. It is a situation so weird that it respects the citizens of Washington and Oregon do not try to understand it. They just accept it. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

How to Spell

New Delhi (AP)—It's "Dilli," not "Delhi." Officials of the Indian capital's Municipal Administration have ruled that the twin cities of Delhi and New Delhi should be spelled, in the Hindi and Urdu languages as "Dilli" and "New Dilli." The officials say these spelling are closer to the correct pronunciation. However, the English spelling will remain unchanged, the officials say, because the form of "Delhi" has "already gained international currency."

Ulster county and Kingston seems to be growing by leaps and bounds or perhaps a better word would be, changing.

Let's go back to 1700 and look in on the doings in New York city. This is taken from "The Story of the Empire State," by G. van D. Southworth, written in 1902. "In New York city the dark, dreary streets of a few years before were now lighted by lanterns. Every 7th house was ordered to hang out a lantern, the six houses between sharing the expense with the 7th. If by any chance a lantern was forgotten, the person responsible was fined 18 cents for each offense."

Perhaps one may wonder how they kept the streets clean in those days. "On Friday, each citizen was ordered to sweep all the dirt in front of his house into a single heap. Then the cartman came, and the heaps were shoveled into his cart. If the cartman shoveled the dirt himself he was paid 12 cents a load, but if the citizens did the shoveling only half that sum was given."

I remember years ago, when the street-sweepers were seen coming in Rondout, the storekeepers used to also do the same for him. That way every little Doctors know that up to now there has been nothing better for a cold than the penetration of plenty of vapors, created by a vaporizing machine.

Now, at last, a new rub has been developed with a heat-generating ingredient so remarkable it makes your own chest act like a vaporizer. Super Anahist Deep-Penetrating Rub gives the most effective medicated vapors possible today, without a vaporizing machine.

MORE CONCENTRATED RELIEF

IN THE VAPOR
Super Anahist Rub's rich, highly medicated vapors rise off the chest—pour into mouth, nose and throat with soothing warmth—work deep down to chest.

IN THE RUB
At the same time, Super Anahist Rub does its work inside the chest—creates heat—speeds the flow of rich, red blood to break up congestion.

And Super Anahist Rub does what vapors cannot do. It has a direct chest-penetrating action to loosen congestion. Thus you get wonderful relief two ways—vapors pour into your nose, mouth, throat and chest, spreading relieving medication throughout the upper respiratory system and down into the chest. They would start out for the Indian territory to buy their furs with a package of beads and knives. The fear of a sudden attack by the Indians was always in his mind. The general course would be after he bought his furs to set out for Albany, where he would board a ship and sail down the Hudson to New York and there sell his goods for a good profit.

He may pass the great patroon estates already established by

He learns from other fellow travelers about the court that is held on these estates once a year, where the patroon metes out justice and punishes offenders according to his own ideas. He too dreams of some day becoming so powerful and having an estate on the Hudson river.

Spring Arrives Today, 4:17 P. M.

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—The exit of winter and the arrival of spring in New York state were marked today by a mixture of rain, freezing rain, sleet and snow.

Forecasters said, however, that shortly after the birth of spring, 1957—at 4:17 p. m.—skies would clear somewhat.

Rain fell early today in New York city and Buffalo. There was a mixture of rain and snow at Syracuse and Rochester. It drizzled at Elmira and Watertown.

Poughkeepsie had sleet, then rain. Freezing rain and sleet coated Binghamton.

Snow fell at Albany and Massena, but the amount was unmeasurable.

Temperatures at dawn were recorded in Binghamton and just above the freezing mark in much of the state but 31-degree readings were recorded in Binghamton and Massena.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said snow flurries could be expected tonight and tomorrow in various sections of the state.

Temperatures ranging from the upper 30s to the low 40s were forecast for tomorrow in eastern and northern counties. The western half of the state was expected to be "cool," weathermen said.

Ordered Deported

New York, March 20 (AP)—Former call girl Nella Bogart was ordered deported today—but there was official doubt she ever would be sent back to live under Communist rule in her native Poland. Miss Bogart was acquitted last month on charges of violating the Mann Act by sending two prostitutes from New York to Newark, N. J. She admitted, however, during the trial that she had been a prostitute and it was on that ground that the deportation order was issued. Miss Bogart fled Poland in 1947 and came to the United States as a displaced person on Jan. 24, 1951. She is listed officially as a "stateless" person. The deportation order was issued at a seven-minute hearing held before Reuben Speiser, special inquiry officer of the Immigration Service.

Bingo Bill Goes to Assembly

GOP Leaders Move to Trim Personal Registration Cost

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—The legislature's Republican leaders moved today to trim the costs of administering permanent personal registration of voters by what they say will be millions of dollars.

The GOP high command announced last night that legislation would be introduced today to ease provisions of the current law that requires house-to-house check of voters.

Under the present statute, boards of elections in communities that adopt PPR must hire temporary employees to make a full canvass of registered voters at least once every two years.

Would Spread Checks
Changes proposed by the Republicans would spread the checks over five years. Permanent employees of election boards would canvass about one fifth of the voters a year.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Senate Leader Walter J. Mahoney said the change would save "millions of dollars" in New York city and counties adopting PPR.

In other developments:
1. The Senate approved a GOP program measure, previously passed by the Assembly, that would shorten from a year to four months the state's residence requirement for voting in a presidential election.

The move would require a constitutional amendment, however. It would have to be approved by the next newly elected legislature before it could be submitted to the voters.

Assembly Gets Bingo Bill
2. The Senate also passed and sent to the Assembly a bill spelling out the manner in which bingo games could be conducted, if the voters decide next November to legalize the game.

New York city long has complained that the mandatory bi-annual house-to-house check in the PPR Law would be too costly to the city. The city council decided last year to adopt the PPR system.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner urged the Legislature to make the checks permissive, instead of mandatory.

The revised version proposed by the GOP still would make the canvass mandatory but spread the work over five years. In addition, a full check of all registered voters in an election district would have to be made if an election board member made a written request.

To Do With President
The measure on shortening the voter residence requirement was advanced by the Republicans as "program" legislation. It is designed to give more citizens a say in the election of a President.

If approved again by the 1959 Legislature—and by the voters that year—it would apply to the 1960 presidential balloting. The bingo legislation is contingent on voter approval of a proposed constitutional amendment that would legalize the game on a local-option basis. It will appear on the ballot in November.

Sen. George R. Metcalf, Auburn Republican, cast the only negative vote on the measure yesterday. He also opposed the suggested amendment. Only bona-fide religious, charitable, civic, fraternal or other non-profit organizations would be allowed to conduct bingo games.

The proposed legislation would limit admission charges to $1 a person and prizes to a nightly total of $1,000. Only members of the non-profit group could manage a game. No one could be paid for that job.

The Legislature is expected to approve a companion bill that would create a nine-member "state lottery control commission" to keep tabs on bingo operations.

vicinity of the bridge. However, this will be tied in with the connecting link from the bridge westery to route 9-W.

Chief Draftsman Hummel of the Poughkeepsie office attended the meeting and plans were shown of the proposed relocation of route 32. This will be approximately 300 feet east of the present alignment and will extend about a quarter of a mile north and south of the bridge entrance.

No Objections
No objections to the plan was expressed and several spoke in favor, including Supervisor Percy Bush of the town of Ulster who said he spoke for his town board and the people of his town.

During the hearing it was disclosed that the relocation of Route 32 and the connecting link from the bridge to Route 9W would be essentially a "single project" both works being carried out simultaneously.

Connection Specified
The connection with Route 9W will begin where the present bridge roadway concrete stops and will run westerly to join Route 9W near Neighborhood road. This connecting link will pass over Route 32. There will be interchanges from the bridge both north and south with Route 32 and it is primarily to provide good access to Route 32 that a section of it will be relocated.

During the hearing Edward Burns, executive officer for the New York Bridge Authority stated money was available for the 9W connecting link. It had been provided for in the bond issue. While the connecting link will be financed by the Bridge Authority, bids will be sought for the work by the Public Works Department.

The Bridge Authority is anxious to begin work on the connecting link which will eliminate the present crooked approach to the bridge over Route 32 and provide a direct connection for through traffic using the bridge from Route 9W and 209.

from April 20, 1951, until the last year in honoring checks drawn by Anjopa when its accounts were allegedly far overdrawn. In an involved process, according to Williams, Rose also came into possession of $9,000 mortgage on Anjopa property.

The government contended that DiCandia and the three women were aware of the misapplication of the bank's funds and it charged that Rose filed false reports with the federal comptroller of currency last April, claiming that overdrafts at the bank amounted to only $1,473, "whereas in truth and in fact, Rose well knew overdrafts at the bank amounted to in excess of $100,000."

Besides the individuals, those named as defendants were Anjopa; the Community Television Corp., of which Di Candia said he is secretary; and the Dica Paper Manufacturing Co. Inc., now defunct, formerly a subsidiary of Anjopa, in Stillwater, N. Y., of which Di Candia was president.

If convicted on the conspiracy charges the individual defendants each could receive a five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine; a five-year sentence and $5,000 fine on the misapplication of funds charges; the false bank statements charges carry a maximum five-year penalty and $5,000 fine.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 20 (AP)—The stock market moved cautiously higher under the leadership of steels, coppers and aluminum early this afternoon. Ralls lagged and utilities tilted slightly lower.

Trading was a little more active than it has been in the past few weeks but still was nothing to get excited about. It encouraged market analysts who favored an advance, however.

Pivotal industrial stocks were generally ahead fractions to slightly more than a point. In early dealings steels, oils and drugs showed a firm undertone. Later the aluminum group came in for a play on the ground these stocks may have been oversold in the steep slump from 1956-57 highs.

Corporate bonds were slightly lower. U. S. Governments gained.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mostly a little higher.

Holmes Back
officer of Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company, 738, Eugene E. Thornton, local insurance broker, 794, and Henry Schroeder, CPP appointee filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Joseph E. Vozdik, 763.

In balloting for trustees, Mr. Short, lowest independent vote-getter, had a plurality of 170 over Mr. Thornton who registered the highest number of votes for the CPP.

The party lineups now in Saugerties show the Independents holding the mayorship and a four to two majority on the board of trustees.

Two CPP holdovers are Roy S. Helmselott and David S. Cunningham.

Tables Turned
In 1955 Mr. Simmons defeated Mayor Holmes by 41 votes in an election which saw a record vote cast—1,604. This total was greatly exceeded in Tuesday's election.

Mayor Holmes told The Freeman today that his party would "work for the best interests of everybody" regardless of party affiliation.

The new board holds its first meeting at 8 p. m. Monday, April 1. Appointments will be made at that time.

Glusker In by 204
Mayor Glusker was reelected in what was described as a fairly heavy vote in Ellenville, defeating his Republican opponent, Wesley Whittaker, a village merchant, by 864 to 660, a majority of 204 votes.

The Democrats lost a seat on the board to the Republicans, however, with the election of Jerome J. Elkin of the Channel Master Corp. He received 816 votes, the highest number cast for a trustee candidate.

Elected with him was William M. Eckert (D) who polled 797 votes.

Losing candidates were Ervin Alward, an official of Ellenville Wood Novelty Co., running on the Republican ticket, who received 697 votes, and Cyrus DePuy (D) who received 723.

A total of 1,562 votes were cast. Last year a total of 1,885 people went to the polls but that election included a contest for village police justice.

Technically Raised
Ulster county's first woman mayor is Mrs. Catherine A. O'Leary of Lawrenceville running on the Democratic ticket. She defeated George Herd, Independent, by a vote of 133 to 126.

WE TACKLE TOUGH PROBLEMS EVERY DAY

Spotting trouble before it starts makes your phone more dependable and useful. This special tester sprays liquid on cable — a cluster of bubbles quickly marks any leak. Result of preventive maintenance like this: the average phone is out of service only once every 5 1/4 years.

Phones for the hard of hearing enable more people in New York State to use and enjoy the telephone. Other special facilities—available for almost every need — make today's phone service more useful and convenient than ever. And we're hard at work to make tomorrow's service even better.

1 step instead of 3 cuts costs. Placing cable once meant hanging supporting wire, tightening it, then attaching cable. Now, pre-lashed cable is pulled into place in one continuous operation. In spite of economies like this, inflation keeps pushing our costs up and up.

... But we can't work miracles

In spite of everything we can do to keep costs down through efficiency and new developments, our costs have gone up at a much faster rate than our revenues. So we are now asking the Public Service Commission to approve a modest increase in telephone rates. This rate adjustment will amount to only 50¢ a month for most home phones, 65¢ for some. It is needed for one simple reason — to let us continue to provide the kind of service you want, deserve — and get.

Credit Unions Are

banks have grown only 7-fold."

Credit unions, he said, held 17 per cent of all personal loans at the end of 1956, and added:

"Today, there are about 17,000 such (credit union) groups in the United States, and they have close to nine million members. Their assets are in excess of three billion dollars."

Have Advantages

Credit unions, he said, are exempt from income taxes, and many officials of such groups serve without salary, posing serious competitive advantages over commercial lenders.

Other aspects of their operation which do not encourage extensive competition from commercial houses include the large volume of very small loans handled by their working arrangements with business and other organization managements.

Modley urged commercial lenders, however, to watch developments in the credit union movement, which, he said, is now beset by conflict among its national and state leaders who operate its mutual association aspects.

Modley said this conflict, between leaders who adhere to the early purposes and philosophy of the movement as social betterment vehicle, and those who are striving to build it up as a finance business, have caused a major split.

The expansionist segment, he suggested, poses a challenge to commercial lenders.

Father Convicted

Buffalo, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—An Erie County Court jury has convicted a young father of the death of his six-week-old daughter. The verdict was returned yesterday against Arthur Pintel, 23. Early Trial Hoped For Hoffa, Lawyer

Washington, March 20 (AP)—

James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, bounce little bigshot of the Teamsters union, today faced an indictment accusing him of conspiring and bribing to get secrets of the Senate's racket probes.

Named codefendant with the 44-year-old Hoffa is Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney who in the past has served as counsel to congressional investigating committees.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the special Senate committee probing labor union activities said he was gratified at the prompt indictment. He expressed the hope Hoffa and Fischbach will be tried "at an early date."

Fischbach said in Miami that "when I am tried, I shall be exonerated." He said he had been retained by Hoffa "but not for anything even remotely connected with the accusation."

Hoffa himself rested on his statement after his arrest a week ago tonight in which he vowed he was innocent of wrongdoing and said he will "fight this case until I am cleared."

Dairy Witness Says Single Order Is Way for Harmony

New York, March 20 (AP)—A dairy farmer witness at a federal hearing says "there is going to be a strike (by milk producers) that will be the real thing unless we can get unity among the producers, handlers and cooperatives" through a single marketing order.

Kenneth J. Hoover of Sayre, Pa., made the statement before hearing examiner G. Osmond Hyde of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who continues the milk marketing hearing today.

Hoover said yesterday that dairy farmers would boycott the metropolitan market unless the issue of extending the federal milk marketing order to combine New York city and environs, northern New Jersey and unregulated areas in upstate New York under a single order is settled soon.

Receives Support

Representatives of several New York state farmers' groups supported Hoover's arguments for an extended order providing uniform federal control.

A minority group of dairy farmers in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania—led by the Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild—boycotted the market in a nine-day demonstration for higher prices to producers which started last Feb. 24.

The marketing hearings are currently dealing with proposals to revise Federal Milk Marketing Order 27, which sets prices to be paid to farmers shipping milk for New York city and Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties. The producers are in upstate New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Vermont.

Today's hearing is the 95th session on marketing orders held since last June 18.

Only Solution, He Says

Hoover, who has a herd of 50 milk cows and is a member of the South Waverly, Pa., local of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, told the hearing examiner: "Because of the unrest in our local and the publicity that we are getting at this hearing, the local has instructed me to come here and express our support for a single marketing order as the only solution to bring about unity among farmers, handlers and cooperatives."

The Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, which claims a membership of 15,000, repeatedly has expressed opposition to the proposal for a single marketing order. It maintains there should be separate orders for New Jersey and New York.

"The unrest is getting so bad up there that officers of the local have resigned over what has happened in the last few weeks."

Disappointed in Past

Hoover said that attempts to call a meeting in the cooperative local, with a membership of 120, have failed because there was "so much disappointment" over past developments.

William Chamberlain, an Ellensburg, N. Y., dairy farmer and a member of the Ontario N. Y. Milk Producers Cooperative, also spoke in favor of an extended marketing order.

He said his organization believes that the best means of obtaining price relief for farmers supplying the New York metropolitan area is the adoption of a single marketing order "as soon as possible."

Dr. Dorris D. Brown, a Syracuse, N. Y., economist who had testified at length at a number of previous hearings as an expert witness for three large New York Dairy Cooperatives, spoke again in support of a single order. He said proponents of a single order believe that it would increase the income of the dairy farmers involved by more than 500 million dollars a year.

BRIDGE

Clubs Set Up by Low Card

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Intercollegiate Bridge championship is played with 16 specially devised hands. Each includes some special problem in bidding, play or both and gives one side or the other a chance to achieve a par.

Hand No. 1 is a North-South par. They must bid and make three no-trump.

The bidding presents no particular difficulty. South has a nice, comfortable, one-spade opening and two no-trump rebid after North bids two clubs. With 11 points in high cards and a six-card suit, North bids three cheerfully and West opens his fourth best heart, the four-spot.

South had to win in his own hand and then leads the deuce of clubs. West plays the seven or the ten (that makes no difference) and now South must make the key play of the hand.

He must play a low club from dummy.

It doesn't matter whether East or West wins that trick or what suit they play. A second club lead by South will establish four club tricks in the North hand while the ace of diamonds will be an entry. South will even make an overtrick if East and West don't take their ace and king of spades quickly.

If South plays a club honor from dummy he will go down two tricks. East will duck that trick but will win the second club lead. Now South will find that he can get back to dummy with the ace of diamonds to establish the club suit but this will leave the suit high and dry with entry left in dummy.

To Test Sunday Law

Toronto, March 20 (AP)—News-papers and radio-TV stations in this city will be prosecuted for Sunday operation, Atty. Gen. A. Kelso Roberts of Ontario says. A 1906 federal law, known as the Lord's Day Act, prohibits the carrying on of business on Sunday except for works of mercy and necessity. Roberts told the Ontario Legislature yesterday that he felt "it is in the public interest that the legal and policy position be clarified as soon as possible." The act provides for a summary trial in a magistrate's court. The appearance Sunday of an edition of the Toronto Telegram precipitated the court test of the 51-year-old law. The newspaper's beforehand announcement that it had planned to publish a Sunday edition brought protests from the Lord's Day Alliance, a nationwide organization.

Four Die in Fire

Fargo, N. D., March 20 (AP)—Four persons were killed and two others suffered burns in fire which destroyed a residence on Fargo's north side early today. Dead were Mrs. Douglas Sawrey and two of her children, William 9, and Wayne, 6, and Mrs. Christiana Lieb, Mrs. Sawrey's mother. Mrs. Sawrey's husband and a daughter, Audrey, 13, escaped from a second floor window of the two story frame house. Both suffered burns and were reported in satisfactory condition in a Fargo hospital.

A pharmacy has been added to the rapidly growing Albany avenue area near the Town of Ulster.

Robert Langer opened his own business Tuesday at 549 Albany avenue. He formerly was employed by another pharmacy here.

"We're doing business now," he said, "but plan a formal opening for public inspection later."

Forecasts Not Accurate

Chicago, March 20 (AP)—The latest wrinkle in weather forecasting — by mathematical theories developed in the last 10 years — works well in the east but has been a flop in the mid-continent, a researcher said today. Prof. Sverre Pettersen, a director of the University of Chicago's weather forecasting research center, said "mathematical forecasts for the area between the Continental Divide and the Mississippi valley are worse than no forecast at all." However, they are up to 90 per cent accurate in the east, he said.

Child Health Clinic
Scheduled March 26

A Child Health Conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 25 East

O'Reilly street on Tuesday, March 26 from 9:15 to 10:15 a. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health Conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

Veterans Are Warned Against Delinquency

Veterans were warned today not to become "deadline delinquents." Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, said that veterans in this area are "delinquent in their duty to themselves and their families" when they fail to meet the deadline dates established by law for such benefits as insurance, education, home, farm and business loans and many others.

"Termination dates of benefits vary in each instance," the veteran official declared, "and the wise veteran is one who takes the time to find out what the deadlines are, and gets himself out of the delinquent category."

Veterans who require counseling to enable them to decide how to proceed in qualifying for benefits on time should contact the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency and the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, 32 Main street, or any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

8,000 Area Lutherans Set For Mission Participation

Approximately 8,000 Lutheran laymen and their pastors representing about 20 congregations in the Mid-Hudson Valley, will join forces in April for a week-long evangelism mission, it was announced today by the Rev. Paul E. Henry, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Red Hook and chairman for the mission.

To be held April 28 through May 2, the area program is part of the two-year continent-wide Lutheran Evangelism Mission of the United Lutheran Church in America, launched last year to mobilize the lay leadership of the church's 4,460 congregations and to stimulate their local missionary outreach.

Three-fold Emphasis

In pointing out the three-fold emphasis of the mission, Pastor Henry said, "In each church there will be preaching services each night with guest missionaries, instruction sessions for lay workers and congregational officers, and the planning of a permanent local evangelism program."

All of the members of the congregations will be contacted prior to the mission and asked to sign a pledge card to do the following:

1. To pray for the Mission, 2. To attend the services of the Mission, and 3. To invite their that applications for others will have to be studied with great care.

However the authority, in its annual report to Gov. Averell Harriman, ruled out any "freeze" for the time being. It said further surveys of the situation would be necessary before any new policy is set.

The best solution for the present, it said, is adherence to a rule put in effect March 16, 1956, against acceptance of any new application from hotels and restaurants.

The authority said there had been great pressure for it to remove its ban on applications for new package store licenses, imposed in 1948. It said it is surveying the situation and will announce its findings later this year.

Purpose Outlined

The Mission, however, is not a "membership campaign," local Lutheran pastors stressed in connection with their own forthcoming program. Its purpose as stated by the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Stackel, national director, is "to stimulate the Christian faith of our own people, and to equip and inspire them to do a better job of evangelism in their everyday lives."

Pastor Henry announced that there will be a briefing session for the more than 150 lay leaders who will carry forth this program in their local congregations Monday, March 25 at 8 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Red Hook. The Rev. Walter E. Bock, regional director of evangelism for the United Lutheran Church in America will be the leader of this session.

Story of Leading Botanist's Discovery For Solving Drouth Is Told to Sorosis

Amos William Howard, botanist of Adelaide, Australia, discoverer of the now famous "Wayside Weed"—subterranean clover—which has brought Australia's desert in the center of that country into usefulness was the topic discussed by Mrs. Howard A. Lewis before the Sorosis Club Monday.

Speaking on the subject, "Prominent Personalities in Today's Agriculture," Mrs. Lewis related the story of Mr. Howard's discovery of one of the most nutritious pasture plants in the world. In the course of experiments, the weed proved to be many times more lasting than any other, needed sowing but once in a lifetime, required no cultivation, re-vitalized the soil with humus and nitrogen, corrected and prevented soil erosion, increased carrying capacity enormously and enhanced land values.

Mr. Howard gave it to the world without seeking reward. He advertised that anyone could have a free packet of seed for the asking. Packets were mailed to every part of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Europe and in recent years to the United States, where it is causing a sensation.

Mrs. Lewis also gave an on-the-scene account of the new era in agriculture economy in the Southern Hemisphere. During the past year, she saw how this subterranean clover resisted drouth and supplied nourishment during dry weather, while visiting Australia and New South Wales. The clover, has a lush growth in this climate, she said. When it matures and goes to seed, the seed is scattered on the ground in great quantities. If the meadow is burned brown, the sheep can dig up the seeds which supply them with all the nourishment they need as well as being capsules of moisture which prevents their dying of thirst. The sheep, she stated, looked very happy and well fed after many weeks of dry weather.

In Sydney, New South Wales, the subterranean clover seed has brought fortunes to syndicates. They are paying laborers $140 a week to reap this seed which is in short supply. The seed, which has brought the Wagga District in the Riverina its biggest boom in a long time, has been renamed by the townsfolk, "black gold."

Mrs. Lewis pointed out that use of this subterranean clover in the southwest part of our country, where climatic conditions are similar would help keep down the price of meat and give the farmers a chance to recoup their losses.

Referring to President Eisenhower's mid-January inspection tour of the nation's drouth-ravaged midlands, she brought out the following facts, which have been publicized in The Freeman.

The drouth, which has persisted continuously since 1952, is potentially the worst this country has experienced. Severe dust storms can be expected unless sufficient rainfall is forthcoming in the next few months.

While drouths cannot be prevented, man has done much to aggravate their devastating effects. Millions of acres, because of cultivation, overgrazing, or both, no longer support good stands of native forage plants, and as a result are wide open to sweeping winds. More than two and one-half million acres of crop and ranch land in the Great Plains States already have been damaged with another 29 million acres "ready to blow" this winter and spring.

The seriousness of the problem is further indicated by the fact that, of the 1,100 counties in 15 western states, about 700 are now designated as drouth disaster areas eligible for U. S. Government Aid. The Agriculture Department during the past three years has spent some $550 million for disaster relief and an additional $184 million to bolster livestock prices.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas recently warned that large areas of the southwest may become desert land, unfit for human or animal habitation, unless the land is given a chance to recover from the effects of drouth.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has declared that in the past four years the government has lost two billion, 894 million dollars.

Speaking on "Water: The Basic Resource," Mrs. Lewis said that water scarcity in one place and flood conditions somewhere else makes one wonder how the world has managed over the centuries.

"Palestine undoubtedly was once a garden spot," she said. "Greece was once beautiful. The Arabs once roamed through the Mid-East following the green pastures as told in the scriptures. After centuries the pastures were depleted as no one knew about conservation of natural resources and the population outgrew the acreage. Starvation was the only outcome which was needed for nature's balance.

More power to them. They'll never do it on a large enough scale if there are constant skirmishes. If they were willing to exchange ideas about agriculture, there would be no need of war."

Robert L. Craft Gets Feature Story In Music Magazine; Is Stravinsky Protege

The March issue of "High Fidelity," the magazine for music listeners, features the release by Columbia Records this month of "The Complete Works of Anton Webern" under the direction of Robert L. Craft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Craft of Kingston.

The article, entitled "Music Makers" by Roland Gelatt, carries a picture of the brilliant young Kingston conductor, a protege of the composer, Igor Stravinsky.

He was the recipient of the Kingston Newspaper Guild's first Page One Award in Music presented last year at the Guild's first Page One Ball held in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Last summer he was on concert tour of Europe with Mr. Stravinsky. In 1952 he was one of the conductors at the world music festival in Paris. He has also been asked to conduct at a similar festival in the summer of 1958 in Tokyo.

The article in "High Fidelity" follows:

"Anton Webern, Arnold Schoenberg's first and most dedicated disciple, was born in Vienna in 1883 and died in Mittern in 1945 as the result of an accidental shot by an American soldier on occupation duty. In his sixty-two years Webern wrote thirty-two compositions. The longest was his first, a quintet for strings and piano without opus number dating from 1906. It lasts 11 minutes, 38 seconds. The shortest is the Opus 8 of 1910, consisting of two songs for voice and instrumental ensemble to texts by Rainer Maria Rilke. Together they last 1 minute, 45 seconds.

Project Began in 1954

"The timings are those of the young California-based conductor Robert Craft, who is responsible for a four-LP album issued by Columbia this month entitled 'The Complete Works of Anton Webern.' For the first time, a composer's entire life work has been published on records in one fell swoop.

"The distinction could not have fallen on a less 'commercial' composer, and Bob Craft still does not quite understand how it all came to pass. The Webern project began in January 1954. Craft had directed a recording for Columbia of Schoenberg's Suite, Op. 29, and as a 'filler' had taped some songs by Webern. Word then came from above that an all-Schoenberg record was wanted, so

Craft proceeded to record some Schoenberg songs to fill out the LP. That resulted in a small quantity of leftover Webern, and provided him with the nucleus for a single all-Webern LP, which was completed in Hollywood and forwarded to Columbia's classical artist-and-repertoire chief, David Oppenheim, in New York. Oppenheim listened, pondered, and came to a startling conclusion. 'It's of no interest this way,' he told Craft. 'Let's use it as a starting point and record everything Webern wrote.'

"That," Craft declares, was more easily said than done. Webern's brief compositions make not only difficult listening but exceedingly difficult playing. Opus 18 ('the most difficult of all'), consisting of three songs for soprano, clarinet and guitar, required—says Craft—about 50 hours of rehearsal and studio work; in performance it times out to three minutes 19 seconds. Fortunately, Hollywood is peopled with a large number of accomplished young musicians, and with their cooperation the project was gradually completed. Help came also from Igor Stravinsky, who greatly admires the music of Webern and was on hand with useful suggestions at almost every session.

"During his lifetime Webern received a full quota of critical obloquy. Nicholas Slonimsky in his Lexicon of Musical Invetive gives a sampling of how American critics responded to Webern's music on the occasions when it was performed here in the Twenties and Thirties. Lawrence Gilman opined that 'Webern's Five Pieces were as clearly significant and symptomatic as a toothache.' To Olin Downes 'Webern's little orchestra suggested nothing so much as a car that, arching its back, glared and bristled its fur, and moaned or growled or spat.' Samuel Chotzinoff described Webern's Symphony as 'compounded of the fractional sounds uttered at night by the sleeping inhabitants of a zoo.'

"In Europe the music fared very little better, and in Nazi-dominated countries (including Webern's native Austria, after 1938) it was—like all twelve-tone music—absolutely verboten. Except for a single performance of the Variations for Orchestra, Op. 30, given by Hermann Scherchen at Winterthur, Switzerland, in 1943, Webern heard none of his music publicly performed during the last decade of his life. This lack of recognition seems not to have disheartened the composer or deflected him from his ideals. 'There are few comparable examples in any activity,' writes Craft in his album notes, 'of such purpose, of such disregard of the world, of a man hissed and ridiculed his entire life going his own way with such infallibility. 'The postwar rise in Webern's reputation began in France. The young composers—Messiaen, Boulez and Leibowitz in particular—proselytized the Webern cause throughout Europe.

Europe Hails Webern
"Today," Craft reports, the mid-century musical era is characterized by a majority of the youngest Western European musicians as 'the age of Webern.' What appeals to them is the utter modernity of Webern's musical structures. Schoenberg, who created twelve-tone technique, was usually content to adapt it to classic forms.

"Schoenberg," Craft explains, 'is essentially Brahms. Webern, on the other hand, invented a new way of composing with the twelve-tone technique. His music is referable to none other.' 'Listeners can now judge for themselves the aesthetic validity of Webern's creations, thanks to a documentation in sound achieved by American musicians and sponsored by American commercial enterprise.'

In the Sunday edition of the New York Herald Tribune is an article describing the approaching celebration of Mr. Stravinsky's 75th birthday on June 17, an international affair of several months length. While he is taking part in a birthday concert of his own music June 19 in Los Angeles, his opera, "The Rake's Progress," will be heard in the Holland Festival, and he will be one of the composers receiving special attention in this summer's festival at Aspen, Colo.

In the Los Angeles concert, "which closes that city's annual festival, Mr. Stravinsky will share the podium with Robert Craft and Franz Waxman," according to the Tribune.

Pediatrician Urges Salk for Parents, Baptist Women Hear

Dr. Herbert B. Johnson, local pediatrician, urged parents under 40 to avail themselves of the important Salk polio vaccine program during a talk before members and guests of the Homemakers' Club No. 2 of the First Baptist Church Tuesday night.

The Kingston child doctor stressed that it is far more of a calamity for parents to contract polio than the child in his talk at the home of Mrs. Lewis Gillette, Hurley Heights.

Later, speaking on the topic "Behavior Patterns," Dr. Johnson discussed the eating and sleeping habits of children and then answered individual problems of those in the group.

Dr. Johnson said that in his opinion the average child should have a certain amount of freedom except when he does that which is detrimental to his health or disrupts family unity. He added that discipline should be made effective at the time "the child is naughty, not when father comes home."

Following the discussion refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed with Mrs. Darryl Duncan serving as co-hostess with Mrs. Gillette.

The next meeting of the Homemakers will be held Tuesday, April 16.

BANNING HARD LIQUOR

A reader explains: "My husband's family have a house in the country and except for a month in the summertime they do not occupy it and so we often spend week ends there, inviting several young married friends to join us. As we are all young and in the same 'financial boat' everyone brings their own 'picnic' lunch. Recently a young couple moved here from a distant city and we have invited them to join us on several of these week ends. However, each time they have brought along hard liquor for highballs. How can I tactfully tell them that while we don't object to beer we don't want anything stronger? I hate to 'drop' them for this reason as they are very congenial, but we do not want these week ends to turn into drinking parties. I would appreciate your help on this matter."

The only thing for you to do is to tell them frankly exactly what you have written me.

Invitations for Fiancee

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just recently become engaged. Before I met my fiance he was asked to take part in two weddings—one as an usher and the other as best man. I do not know either of the couples that are to be married and was not invited to their weddings. My fiance insists that I go to both weddings with him. He says it will be perfectly proper to go as his fiancee. I do not think it would be right but we have decided to let you be the judge.

Answer: He must ask for an invitation for you to both of these weddings, and you should not go uninvited.

An Unmarried Hostess

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a young unmarried woman who is living alone in an apartment to entertain a gentleman friend for dinner unchaperoned?

Answer: An old friend, certainly; a new acquaintance, not without another couple.

Should table linen be monogrammed and, if so, where should the monogram be placed? This information and many other suggestions about linens for various occasions are included in leaflet E-32, "Table Linens." Girl Scouts Council Seeks Aid for 'Wendy'

Woodstock, March 20—Never in its history has Girl Scout Camp Wendy needed the help of the Neighborhoods of Ulster county as it does this season.

At the December board meeting of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts the critical situation was thoroughly discussed, and all members promised to do everything possible to support the project.

There is great need for additional members of the camp committee, and if anyone is interested in serving on this committee, they are requested to send names to the Girl Scout office, in Kingston, or to notify Mrs. Edward Gurland.

The Girl Scout Neighborhoods have indicated a willingness to assume a share in the camp work weekends, and Woodstock has been assigned the weekend of April 6 and 7 for the men, and June 22 and 23 for the women. Those who plan to work are asked to be at the Camp at 9 a. m., in Walkkill. Families are most welcome. They are requested to bring a picnic lunch to eat with other willing workers. It would be helpful for men to bring along hammers and nails, and women to bring any cleaning equipment.

There will be a camp rally at Camp Wendy May 5, and all are urged to attend. Miss Barbara Plate, physical education instructor of Ramsey, N. J. has been hired as camp director, and she plans to attend the camp rally so that she may meet campers and their parents before the camping season. Recruitment for the camp staff has been started. Anyone who would like to recommend persons interested in camp counseling or maintenance jobs at Camp Wendy, may communicate with the Girl Scout office in Kingston.

The annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council will be held April 30 at Williams Lake Hotel. Dinner will be at 6:30 p. m.

On March 28 and 29, Miss Yarbba and Miss Frazer will be at the Girl Scout office to discuss central financing.

Plans have been completed for the community union Lenten services. This year they will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of Holy Week. Monday night the service will be held in the Lutheran Church with the Rev. Garnett Wilder preaching. Wednesday night the service will be at the Dutch Reformed Church with the Rev. G. Oliver Sands preaching and Friday night at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd preaching.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 10 — Paul Meltzer, Woodstock artist, is the subject of a feature article in the April issue of "Art and Photography" entitled "America's Happiest Artist," by George Gilbert. The caption reports that Mr. Meltzer "believes he has attained complete happiness in his telephoneless, carefree, carefree world where he creates bold, gutty portrayals of the world's famous personages." The article is accompanied by six reproductions of Mr. Meltzer's paintings.

A lithograph by Woodstock artist, Clarence Bolton, entitled "At Home" is being shown in the 41st annual exhibition of The Society of American Graphic Artists, at the Architectural League, 115 East 40th street, New York. The show opened March 5, and will continue through March 22, and is open daily from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., and Sundays from 3 to 6 p. m.

Mr. Bolton also has one of his landscapes "Winter Sunshine" reproduced in the March calendar of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, Hartford. The painting, a winter landscape, with a glimpse of Woodstock's famous Dutch Reformed Church spire, is described as follows:

"Every landscape painter knows that March is the month of surprising color. Against the late snow of winter, the familiar contrasts of green fir trees and the red barns are heightened by the reds and purples that appear suddenly, in the trees. The swelling branches of nearby trees seem enveloped in a rosy mist, which in the distant mountains sweeps like a series of green purple clouds upwards to the sky. All this artist Bolton saw and painted. Then he brought us back to earth by seeing man-made smoke curling from a farm house chimney."

Hercules Sales Likely To Increase 6 Per Cent

Sales of Hercules Powder Company in the first quarter of 1957 are likely to be in the neighborhood of $61,000,000, an increase of six per cent over the same 1956 quarter, Albert E. Forster, president, told stockholders at the Annual Meeting at Wilmington, Delaware.

Earnings in the first quarter are expected to amount to about 45 cents a share, compared with 47 cents a share in the preceding quarter, and 55 cents a share in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Physical quantity of Hercules sales in the first quarter of 1957 is expected to be five per cent over the same quarter of 1956.

Start-up expenses of new plants plus higher operating costs without corresponding increases in prices continues to depress overall profit margins.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

No other car even challenges its performance!

Here are some figures for comparison. We believe they talk louder than words, and that you will find this message worth reading.

So much has been said about the good looks of the 1957 Chrysler that you may have the impression its reputation rests on styling alone. The truth is it's even more impressive in action. Three performance figures prove this. Here is the first: Chrysler's Firepower V-8 engine packs 325 hp (and up to 375 hp in the Chrysler 300-C), tops in the industry.

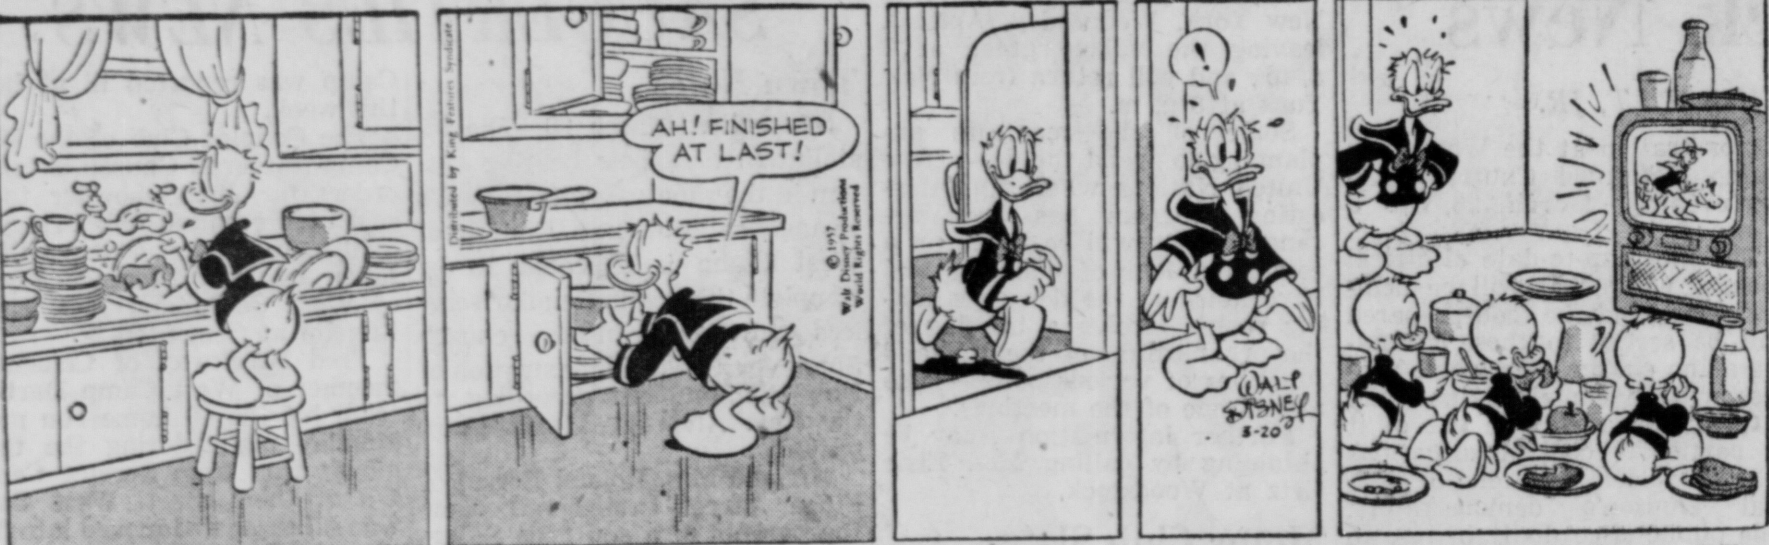

Is horsepower the only way you judge performance? Certainly not. There's engine displacement and torque. Chrysler's displacement is 392 cu. in. What about torque, the real pay-dirt power that turns the wheels? Chrysler's torque is 430 lb.-ft. at 2800 rpm, again tops in the industry.

More power than you need? Maybe. But it means unquestioned command of the highway when you want it. It means your Chrysler will stay like new much longer because it can loaf where other cars strain. So you see, when we call this car the Mighty Chrysler we mean just that . . . the mightiest on the highway! Come in and drive it soon.

Georgia was named by an English King for himself. The name is merely a Latinized form of the name of George II, who was King of England from 1727 to 1760 and during whose reign "The Colony of Georgia in America" was founded. The first white men to visit what is now Georgia were members of the Hernando de Soto expedition of 1540. It was included in the vast tract granted in 1663 and 1665 by Charles II to the eight proprietors of Carolina. In 1717 the proprietors of Carolina granted Sir Robert Montgomery what is now Georgia. He called it the "Margravate of Azilia," but nothing came of his scheme to establish settlements and Georgia escaped being called Azilia.

In the midst of her first driving lesson, Mrs. Williams complained to her husband: Mrs.—George, that little mirror up there isn't set right. Mr.—You think not? Mrs.—No, I can't see a thing in it but the car behind—

The last letter in "female" is silent. It's the only thing about her that is.

Wife—Well, what happened when you asked your boss for a raise today? Husband—Why, he was like a lamb. Wife—What did he say? Husband—Baa.

Very often we wonder if some fellows are just lucky or smart.

Southern Colonel—You see that man? (Pointing out a distinguished person sitting on the front porch of one of Atlanta's fine homes.) Friend—I do.

Southern Colonel—Well, suh, that is a man in whom our state takes great pride. He is Judge Blank, suh, the only man in Georgia who can strut sitting down.

Jerry—Why don't you go to see your girl any more? Perry—Don't be foolish. The reason is a-parent.

Movie Star—I haven't worked in pictures with my wife because of sinus trouble—no one will sign us.

Pearl—You said if I'd marry you, you'd be humbly grateful. Mack—Well, what of it? Pearl—You're not—you're grumbly hateful.

The muskrat is not a rat. He is an amphibious rodent and should be called a "mushquash."

Dwyer Scores 58 as Pine Plains Romps Over Pearl River

Teammate Forte Hospitalized, Unable to Appear

Kingston Stars Trip Tough Otisville, 81-66

All-American Chet Forte was hospitalized and missed his scheduled appearance in the Kingston Basketball tournament last night, but Columbia teammate Ted Dwyer made up for it in spades as he scored 58 points to pace the Pine Plains Bombardiers to a runaway 130-70 win over Richards Sporting Goods of Pearl River.

In the first game of the opening night doubleheader, the Kingston All-Stars won in impressive fashion over rugged Otisville, 81-66.

Forte checked into St. Luke's Hospital in New York city yesterday with a case of conjunctivitis which in every day lingo is known as 'pink eye.' A phone call to the hospital confirmed Pine Plains' manager George Steutzel's pre-game announcement that the Lion wizard was ill.

Dwyer made a gentlemanly gesture moments before the start of play when he told the goody throng of some 400 that he was truly sorry they were going to be deprived of seeing his highly publicized teammate.

The handful of fans who remained to see the entire contest quickly forgot about Forte and began cheering Dwyer's heroics. The lightning-fast 6-footer, who was co-captain of the Lions, shattered the tourney single game record and helped erase two other marks. The 130 points is a new team standard and the combined total of 200 is a game record.

Scoring on a wide variety of shots, Dwyer went on a tear never before matched in local hoop circles. His teammates deserved a great deal of credit for the record-smashing performance, particularly around Bob Richards of Poughkeepsie, who played a sterling floor game. Dwyer amassed his points on 21 field goals and 16 free throws. He missed eight other shots from the foul line.

Starts Slow

He started slowly, scoring just five in the first period, but after that was virtually unstoppable. He racked up 17 in the second period, 20 in the third and 18 in the fourth. Steutzel also unfurled some other top-flight talent in Gary Kerin of Albany State Teachers and his coach Dick Sauers, plus smooth-working 6-7 center Phil Spencer. Spencer scored 18 although he had a burden of three personal fouls against him as early as the first half. Martin canned 16, Howay 14 and Sauers 10.

Pearl River Pathetic

Pearl River was truly pathetic and one of the weakest clubs to appear in the tourney which is celebrating its fourth season. They never were in the game and trailed by wide margins right from the start. Kingston Stars looked very good in beating an always-troublesome Otisville club. The locals have good height and speed and rebounding strength and should go far.

George Carpozis and Saugerties High coach Bud Smith led them to victory with 25 and 24 points, respectively. Andy Juhl hit 10 and Dick Terlinger 9. Harvey Collins topped Otisville with 17. John Clausman made 16.

Action resumes Thursday with Economy Cleaner of Newburgh facing Staatsburg American Legion in the opener and Van Voor Lumber of Fishkill opposing Culver Motors of Port Jervis.

anella's hand, Karl Spooner's arm and Johnny Podres' back. If Campanella's hand is all right, our attack can be strengthened 25 per cent. If Spooner and Podres come through, we could have the best pitching in the league.

"Remember, we didn't have Sal Maglie and Don Bessent until the season was nearly half gone. Carl Erskine had arm trouble. Roger Craig should be better now that he's put in a full season in the big leagues. Don Newcombe ought to have another year, maybe not as good, but well enough. Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax have shown remarkable improvement this spring."

Did Alston think the Dodgers would miss Jackie Robinson? "I really can't answer that until I see how the young fellows make out," he began. "But there's no doubt, Jackie Robinson could get us up for the big games more than anyone I ever knew. We'll probably miss his spirit and determination. But how much we'll actually miss him depends upon how good the players who will take his place make out."

Lakers Oust Fort Wayne

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 20 (AP)—A stolen rebound sent the Minneapolis Lakers to St. Louis today for the National Basketball Assn. Western Division final playoff and ended professional basketball in Fort Wayne.

The Lakers beat the Fort Wayne Pistons last night, 110-108, to sweep their best-of-three series in two games. The Lakers will meet the St. Louis Hawks for the division title in the best-of-five series.

The Pistons franchise will move to Detroit next season. The final game here drew a slim crowd of 2,211.

Big Clyde Lovellette snatched a rebound of a Laker miss from Fort Wayne's Larry Foust and scored the winning goal with 4 seconds to play. Foust, a 30-point scorer for the game, had hit 6 seconds earlier to give Fort Wayne its only lead of the fourth quarter.

Osowick Gets Player Award

DUSO Coaches Pick Exact All-Star Teams as Writers

DUSO League coaches released their 1956-57 all-star basketball selections today and oddly enough they coincide exactly with the DUSO Sportswriters Association picks with the exception of the "Player of the Year" award.

Port Jervis' Alex Osowick was named the outstanding player by the coaches over Ellenville's Mike Tannenbaum and Middletown's Jim Merritt. Merritt was the sportswriters' choice.

First Team
First team honors went to Merritt, Tannenbaum, Osowick, Lee J. Nelson of Poughkeepsie and John Lawrence of Liberty. Kingston's Bob Smith made the second team with Bill Marx (Middletown), Al Beccaccio (Newburgh), Don Longobardi (Poughkeepsie) and Eddie Mack (Port Jervis).

Coaches also listed honorable mentions, which differed somewhat from the writers' picks. Kingston's Tony Grimaldi received recognition, plus Bob Gorman (Ellenville), Bill Cotton and Dom Roscino (both of Newburgh), Ace Phillips (Monticello) and Curt Benton (Liberty).

75 Points for Osowick
Osowick received 78 points in the player of the year voting. Tannenbaum got 66 points and Merritt 62.

In the writers' balloting, Merritt got seven of the 12 votes. Osowick got four and Nelson one.

Coaches picked the 10 best players and rated them in a maximum of 10 points. They took into consideration, offensive and defensive abilities, team play and spirit, hustle and sportsmanship. They were not permitted to name any member of their own team.

IBC Closes Deal To Air Bouts for Another 2 Years

New York, March 20 (AP)—The International Boxing Club, declared a monopoly in the promotion of world championship fights, has concluded deals to continue the broadcasting and telecasting of non-title bouts on Wednesday and Friday nights for the next two years.

The IBC and the American Broadcasting Company signed a two year multi-million dollar contract Tuesday for the continuation of the Wednesday night shows. A similar deal between the IBC and the National Broadcasting Company was announced on Feb. 27.

What Pact Calls For
Under the new IBC-ABC pact, the network and producer Lester Malitz are permitted to negotiate for championship fights with any promoter who may have the radio-TV rights to sell for such fights.

This protects the ABC and producer Malitz in the event the courts limit or ban the IBC from promoting title fights.

Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan ruled on March 8 that the IBC had monopolized world championship fights and shut out competitors from promoting them in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. Judge Ryan directed both the government, which brought the civil anti-trust action against the boxing club, and the IBC to propose decrees within 30 days on how the IBC could operate.

The razor blade company sponsor of the Friday night fights said the show cost it $10,400,000 a year. Of this $100,000 a week, the IBC said it received $24,500 and paid out $4,000 to each of the two main event fighters.

Cost to Sponsors
ABC said the complete Wednesday night package would cost sponsors between $8,500,000 and $9,000,000 a year. Of this, the IBC would collect $18,500 weekly and pay out $4,000 to each main event fighter.

Under the new Wednesday night deal, effective June 1, one of the present co-sponsors, as having men's toiletry company, will continue with the program. The other co-sponsor, a brewing company, will bow out May 29. The ABC said it had received several bids for the co-sponsoring rights "and anticipated no difficulty in filling the spot."

Strictly Southpaw
Hallandale, Fla. (NEA)—Willie Hartack, the phenomenon of the Florida racing season, is a left-handed whipper—and he also keeps his mounts as far to his left as the rail permits when he drives for home.

Dodger Deal
Vero Beach, Fla. (NEA)—Of the last 10 National League Rookies-of-the-Year, four were Dodgers—Jackie Robinson, Don Newcombe, Joe Black and Junior Gilliam.
The expedition of Commodore Perry to the China Seas and Japan is referred to as the "Black Ship Festival."

Major Leaguers On Homer Binge In Exhibitions

(The Associated Press)

Home run sluggers are beginning to find range on the exhibition circuit with the National Leaguers far ahead of the American today in manufacturing the four-py wallow.

In eight games on the Grapefruit-Cactus Circuit yesterday, there were 23 homers and most of them broke up the old ball game.

Ten clubs have played 10 exhibitions, the other six having completed 11 and a total of 161 homers have been hit—99 by National and 62 by American League teams. This follows the trend, for last season National Leaguers socked 1,219 homers compared with 1,075 for the American. Team leaders were the Cincinnati Redlegs with 221 and the New York Yankees with 190.

Giants, Phils Lead
The New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies have each clouted 17 homers, while the Chicago White Sox lead the Americans with a dozen.

Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh rookie from Lincoln of the Western League where he belted 66 homers last year, Jim Lemon of Washington and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee each have hit five exhibition blasts.

It seems to be either a feast or a famine for Stuart, who got two home runs yesterday as the Pirates defeated the White Sox 9-3. Stuart fanned the other three times at bat, running his strikeout total to eight in four games.

Rookie Neil Chrisley hit a two-run homer in the ninth to provide Washington's 6-4 victory over Cincinnati in a game that saw five round trippers. Clint Courtney's two-run homer had tied the score for Washington in the seventh. Gus Bell, Bob Henrich and George Crowe homered for the Redlegs.

A's Edge Dodgers
Kansas City defeated Brooklyn 6-5 when Johnny Groth rapped the ball over the fence in the 10th inning in another duel of homers. Gus Zernial hit another for the A's, while Don Zimmer, Duke Snider and Gino Cimoli got one apiece for the Brooks.

Jim Piersall hit the first Boston homer of the spring, but it was a grand-slammer in the third inning and helped the Red Sox to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Phillies hit three homers and the Tigers two as Philadelphia took a 6-5 decision in 11 innings from Detroit. Joe Lonnett, reserve catcher, led off the 11th with a homer, and the Phils added another on three singles. Earlier two Phil rookies, Harry Anderson and Fred Van Dusen homered, while Harvey Kuenn and Charlie Maxwell each hit one for Detroit.

Lennon Homers
Bob Lennon, up for another trial with the Giants this season, clubbed a three-run homer in the fourth inning and the New York-ers came from behind to defeat the Chicago Cubs 9-4. Rookie Bob Schmidt also homered for the Giants.

Home runs put the Yankees back in the game against the Milwaukee Braves, and Gil McDougald's clutch double in the ninth scored two runs to give New York a 6-5 decision. Mickey Mantle and rookie Woody Held each homered with a Yankee on base in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians 8-4 after rallying for five runs in the eighth inning. Brooks Robinson of Baltimore hit a homer and triple.

Blood Donor Debt
Norfolk, Va. (AP)—Sidney Flum donated his 44th pint of blood to the Red Cross to put him over the five-gallon mark. He said he was wounded in the USS Yorktown in the Battle of the Coral Sea in 1942 and was given a lot of blood transfusions and plasma and thought he ought to square the account.

Wolven, Morris Place Second in Weightlifting

Ronald Wolven and William Morris won second place honors in weightlifting for the Kingston YMCA in a Central New York State "Y" tournament at Schenectady.

Wolven wound up runnerup in the light heavyweight division with a three-lift total of 680 pounds. Morris took second place in the middle heavyweight class with an aggregate of 645 pounds.

Forty lifters from nine associations participated in three events; the press, the snatch and clean and jerk.

Schenectady's Charles Meyers put on an impressive show in taking the light-heavy title with lifts totaling 750 pounds. Team-mate Dwain Patton took first place in Morris' division on a total of 665 pounds.

Plans are set for the State championships. Dates will be announced later.

Improved Water

Mexico City (AP)—The government's department of water resources plans to spend $16,000,000 in 1957 on giving good drinking water to more of the population. Many, especially in small villages, now are forced to drink dirty and unhealthy water from tanks and rivers—and have to carry it long distances in some cases.

New York, March 20 (AP)—It's Bradley vs. Temple and Memphis State vs. St. Bonaventure in tomorrow night's semifinals in the National Invitation Basketball Tourney.

Temple and Bradley reached the round of four last night by whipping Dayton 77-66 and Xavier of Ohio 116-81, respectively. Each put on decisive second half rallies to win easily.

Memphis State and the Bonnies advanced by winning their quarter final games on Monday night.

Bradley, making its first Madison Square Garden appearance since losing to CNY in the 1950 finals of both the NIT and NCAA, astounded the crowd of 10,543 by routing Xavier after trailing by 21 points, 38-17. The Missouri Valley Conference team finished by setting an all-time Garden and NIT single game scoring record.

Shellie McMillon scored the field goal that shattered the previous NIT record of 110 made by St. Louis against Connecticut in 1953. A few seconds before the end Dave Emerson tossed in two free throws that erased the all-time Garden mark of 115 by St. John's of Brooklyn against Rhode Island earlier this season. Temple, led by a court wizard in southpaw Guy Rodgers, trailed at halftime 41-39 but riddled Dayton's zone defense in the second half to turn the game into a rout.

The second-seeded Braves from Peoria rallied to within 52-44 at the halftime before the roof fell in on Xavier. The Braves went on an almost unbelievable 40-6 tear that tore the game apart.

The tide changed with the Braves trailing by 21.

"We started an all court press then," exclaimed Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn. "The boys knew they were going to win at halftime. They felt confident. I was surprised we were able to keep up the press. Usually the other team manages to stop it after about 10 minutes."

Warriors Tie For JCC Lead

Warriors moved into a tie for first place in the Jewish Community Center Junior basketball league by beating the last place Hawks, 36-29.

Warriors and Celtics are deadlocked with 12 points, twice as many as the Hawks.

Ed Kessler hooped 16 for the Warriors. Gerald Hawkins hit 19 for the Hawks. Bob Black made 19 for the Celtics.

The scores:

Warriors (36)—Abrams, f, 8; J. Burns, f, 8; Kessler, c, 16; Playford, g, 4; Johnson and Baker did not score.

Hawks (29)—Goldfarb, f, 2; Hawkins, f, 19; D. Burns, g, 2; Galvin, g, 6; Erena, Dugan, Friedman did not score.

Celtics (26)—Black, f, 19; B. Abrams, f, 0; Shultz, 2; Werblowsky, g, 2; Gold, g, 0; Abelow, g, 0.

Trio Deadlocked In Pro-Am Golf

Palm Beach, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Bud Holscher led the way into the second and final round of the Seminole Pro-Am golf tournament today.

They posted three under par 69s over the 6,746-yard Seminole Golf Club course yesterday. Ben Hogan, playing in his first tournament of the winter, had a 73.

Hogan teamed with singer Bing Crosby for a best-ball score of 66 but were far behind the leaders, who carded 61s in that division.

They included Holscher and his partner, Shaw Walker of Muskegon, Mich., and Gardner Mickelson of Panama City, Fla., and William G. Curran of Detroit.

Jimmy Demaret of Kiamas Lake, N. Y., was fourth among the pro scorers with 70. Six were tied at 71: Jack Burke of Kiamas Lake, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, Cary Midgoff of Dallas, Bill Narby of Wayne, Mich., Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

Dickinson had an individual score of 72, the same posted by L. A. Pagan Jr. of West Palm Beach, Mike Fitchick of Mahopac, N. Y., Art Wall Jr. of Fort Manor, Pa., Lew Washam of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

Golden Gloves Finals Tonight

Chicago, March 20 (AP)—Golden Gloves boxing teams of New York and Chicago, each boasting exceptionally fine talent, will aim their haymakers at each other tonight in the colorful intercity bouts at Chicago Stadium.

It's the 30th annual East-West showdown—representing the best amateur boxers of the Atlantic seaboard—trying for an unprecedented second straight team triumph.

Chicago's champions represent the top amateur fighters west of the Appalachians.

The scheduled three-round bouts in each of the eight weight divisions will be nationally televised and broadcast (ABC, 7 p. m. EST). Perhaps, the TV audience will be able to see all eight intercity winners crowned in the hour-long show. The time element depends on the number of bout-shortening knockouts registered.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON

Dog Editor

We read about talking dogs and see them on television screens.

Don't look to your dog for any miracles, however. Whatever conversation you get from him will be a result of your contribution to a sympathetic association with him and his response to this feeling of common interest.

What can we expect of talking dogs? How does their vocal equipment compare with ours in terms of the language we speak?

Dogs utter vowel sounds. They may be able to cover pretty much the same range as the human voice. They get these sounds out in association with a whine, a bark, a growl, a yawn or a howl.

With the exception of the R or a growl or worked-up-to-bark and the Y or a yip or yawn and the W of the mouth opening to emit a sound slowly, the consonant range is pretty limited.

The tongue is neither constructed nor trained to contact the roof of the mouth to pronounce a T nor can the lips be trained to form M of B. Z and S, and K could only come from a dog's mouth by some strange coincidence.

On "Good Morning With Will Rogers, Jr." on which I judged the ability of dogs to talk, there have been a pleasing number of dogs the response of which to specific requests is indeed gratifying.

Some have said hungry (wounds of two or more syllables are required) in a manner which, though it would not pass in an elocution course, sounds much like you and I in our every day conversation.

I'm sure that two of these dogs would have gotten their "hamburger"—well done or otherwise—without any human clarification and one managed to embellish his order with "onion" in enviable fashion.

The significant part of all this is the understanding between these dogs and their owners and the bond between them which no speech could ever replace.

Sullivan, Spivey Lead AP Small All-America Team

New York, March 21 (AP)—Jack Sullivan of Mt. St. Mary's, Md., and Jim Spivey of Southeastern Oklahoma top the 1957 small college basketball All-America selected today by the Associated Press.

Joining these two seniors on the first team are Mason Cope of Kentucky Wesleyan, another senior; Milt "Chief" Williams a junior from Centenary and Vern Bagenstoss a sophomore from St. Cloud, Minn. Teachers.

Their selections were based on the recommendations of sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country.

Wheaton Player

Bob Whitehead, a sophomore who helped Wheaton win the NCAA small college championship; Ken Hammond, a senior from West Virginia Tech; Chuck Curtis, another sophomore from Pacific Lutheran, and two juniors Jim Smith of Steubenville, Ohio, and Frank Glenn of McNeese's Gulf States Conference champions, were chosen for a second team.

Sullivan and Spivey, both 6-4, made headlines all year. Sullivan, of Washington, D. C., led Mt. St. Mary's to an unprecedented fourth straight Mason-Dixon Conference championship and to third place in the NCAA small college championships. He was the Mason-Dixon's all time high scorer.

Spivey, known as "aches and pains" because of injuries, sparked Southeastern Okla. to the final of the NATA championship tournament. He suffered a broken right hand and a fractured jaw, but he continued to play and flip in 30 to 40 points a game.

The first carillon brought to the United States is housed at Alfred University.

90 Members Attend Accountant Dinner

Approximately 90 members and guests attended the dinner-meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, Monday evening.

The speaker was William Langenberg, assistant controller, Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, N. J., who spoke on "Cost Accounting for Cost Control and Reductions." Mr. Langenberg said that management must put their objectives and goals in writing and assign responsibilities, informing the supervisors of all phases of the undertaking. This assures fullest cooperation and teamwork.

Cost accounting systems must be designed to be of value and suit the needs and requirements of management, as most systems tend to show results far too late to be of any use. Mr. Langenberg's talk was illustrated by a visual slide program, showing recommended forms and systems.

Checking Planes

New York, March 20 (AP)—Three airlines flying British-built Viscounts out of the New York area are checking wing flap attachment bolts on the planes. Capital Airlines, Trans-Canada Airlines and British Overseas Airways Corp. said they are making the precautionary inspection on the advice of the manufacturer. A Viscount crashed in Manchester, England, last Thursday, killing 22. The accident was believed caused in part by a failure of a section of the flap mechanism. Capital said about 90 per cent of the inspection work on the line's fleet of 60 Viscounts was completed yesterday. The line canceled 10 flights.

Grant's Announce Educational Gift Matching Program

Adoption of a program to employ contributions to colleges and universities was announced today by officials of the W. T. Grant Company.

Edward Staley, president of the national retail chain, announced the details of the W. T. Grant Educational Gift Matching program. Employees need not have attended the college to which their contribution is made, he said.

Mr. Staley indicated the company has been considering plans for aid to higher education for some time. Since the company operates stores in 42 states, a method of selecting deserving colleges was a major problem, he said.

The gift matching program solves this problem and it will encourage gift giving by employees, Mr. Staley said.

The gift matching program gives the Grant company the opportunity to participate in a far-seeing program to help our schools develop more and better talent, many of whom will look to retailing for a rewarding career, Mr. Staley concluded.

Under the program, the company will match employee gifts to any accredited college or university, or properly certified alumni fund, foundation or association connected with such schools, whether privately endowed or state supported.

Even at this early date, employee response to the program has been most enthusiastic, according to Charles W. Rivoire, company secretary and an administrator of the program.

UJW Fund Group Stresses Need Of Firm Action

The Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund held its weekly cabinet meeting at the Jewish Community Center Tuesday night. The 15 cabinet members reaffirmed the need to meet the current refugee crisis with prompt and firm action.

The cabinet group undertook to contact the 200 invitees to the initial gifts division meeting to be held Tuesday, March 26. The goal for 1957 will be $120,000, consisting of $75,000 regular campaign and $45,000 Emergency Rescue Fund.

It was announced by Herman Rafalowsky, chairman, that the guest speaker at the March 26 meeting will be Harry Frankel, chairman of the 1957 United Jewish Appeal for Eastern New York. Mr. Frankel has taken a leave of absence from his business and commercial interests in order to devote all of his time to stressing the need for providing transportation and resettlement in Israel and other free countries for 100,000 Jewish men, women and children in flight from tension, conflict and persecution in Egypt, Hungary and other lands in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East.

Those in attendance at the cabinet meeting were Herman G. Rafalowsky, chairman; Norman Rafalowsky, treasurer; Benjamin Schechter, outlying areas chairman; Attorney Abraham Streifer, publicity and program chairman; Herman J. Eaton and Bernard Abelow, intermediate gifts division; Henry Singer and Isadore Weinstein, general solicitations division; Ben Silverman, Richard Kalish and Joe Honig of the initial gifts division and Sol Silverman, executive secretary.

Nixon Sees Might

Tunis, March 20 (AP)—Vice President Nixon and guests from 33 nations today watched free Tunisia parade its new army of 3,000 men in celebration of its first independence anniversary. The vice president and Mrs. Nixon, winding up a tour of Africa, sat at the right side of the Bey, Sidi Mohammed Al-Amin, for the celebrations. A delicate diplomatic problem was solved when the French representative, Justice Minister Francois Mitterand, was seated in the front row of the reviewing stand and Algerian Nationalist leaders were given back seats out of his view.

John Adams was the first President to occupy the White House at Washington, D. C.
